

Macromedia Cold Fusion

The Macromedia MX solution for rapidly building and deploying powerful web applications and web services.

Build powerful Internet applications and web services in record time with ColdFusion MX. Save time and money on your next development project by leveraging the highly productive ColdFusion scripting language and extensive suite of built-in application services. Featuring easy integration with enterprise data, built-in connectivity for Macromedia Flash user interfaces, integrated search and charting, and complete support for XML and web services, ColdFusion MX provides everything you need to deliver powerful applications.

- Powerful Internet capabilities within an easy-to-learn and highly productive server scripting environment.
- Intuitive tag-based language that requires fewer lines of code by handling low-level programming tasks automatically and simplifying code reuse.
- Complete support for new ColdFusion MX features within Dreamweaver MX, including powerful visual layout and prototyping, enhanced code editing and development capabilities, and integrated debugging